2022 PRESENTATION:

XGamepro was born in 2011 as an esports competition developer website. As the local scene evolved, XGamePro mutated based on local gaming needs. Finding our existence through gaming is what identifies and differentiates us.

Our strength is to know how to reach the end-user, in actions intended to promote a product online or/and on site, or through the execution of personalized tournaments, as well as any other action our client needs.

We stand out for the professionalism, seriousness and enthusiasm with which we face, on a daily basis, the whole videogames industry, pushing us to work for our passion, and for those reasons we are XGamePro.

GAMER CONSULTING PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

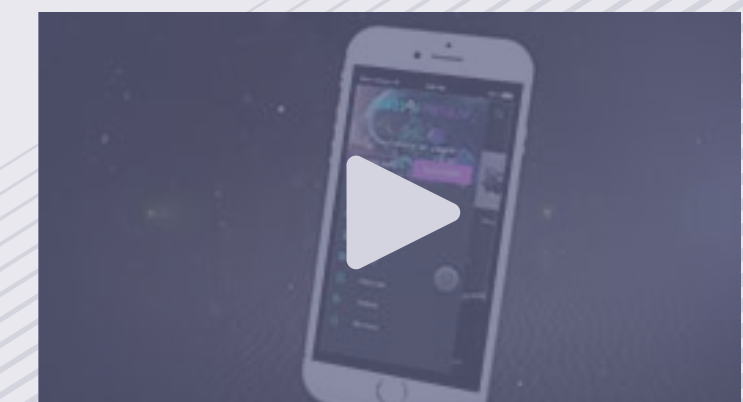

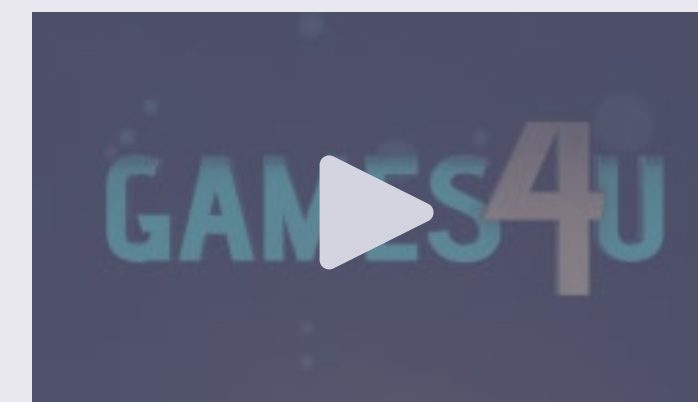

As a company specialized in Sports we offer integral consulting to our customer, we can highlight:

- New business units: includes search Enterprise solutions and execution plans tending to intruduce our client to a new market or reach a new target defined.
- Business development: involve the realization of activities destined to Brand or prduct promotion and difusión
- Generation of meeting point: sustained by the development and creation of activities of Leagues and profesional tournament, executed online or on site, organization evento, arming stand with advertising purpose or as an epicenter of interaction with current or potential consumers
- Enlargement and strengthening of the community: includes the transmission of competetions, management and creation of content on social networks

MOVISTAR: GAMES4YOU

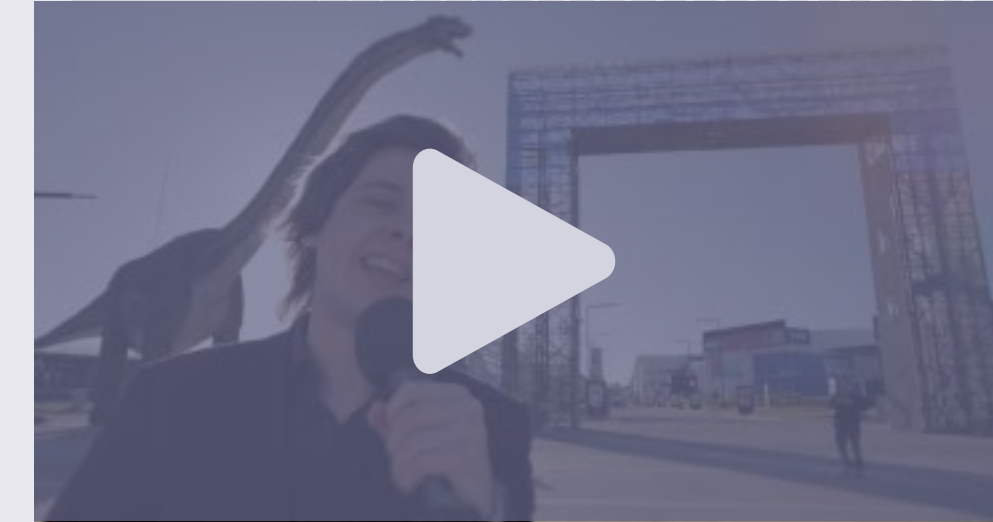

Games4You is the Movistar gamer news portal. In order to promote it, we carry out, under its sponsorship, Clash Royale and FreeFire tournaments on youtubers channels recognized in the gamer environment (Drekzen, Donato, Jeanki).

In this way, a direct promotion of the portal to the public gamer was achieved.

2018: JUEGOS OLÍMPICOS DE LA JUVENTUD

Being the electronic sport the novelty within the international event has taken place in our country, we were under the task of spreading it in advance. Thus, at the Campus party 2016 technology event we managed a stand dedicated to informing about it with sports professionals: Snail (Hearthstone), Patan (FIFA), Nocturns Gaming (Overwatch), Johnnyboy and Straka (CS: GO) , and Nosfeh (Rapporteur driver in stand)

GARENA: FREEFIRE

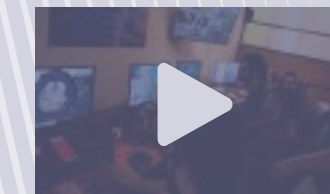

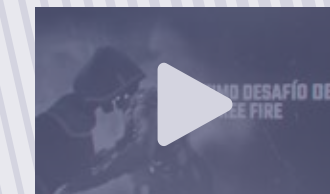

During 2019 and 2020, in order to promote new in-game procured skins, we conducted multiple photo sessions to professional cosplayers to portray these same skins. The photos were uploaded to social networks capturing not only the attention of players but also those of cosplay lovers.

XGAMEPRO STUDIO

XGamePro is a company 100% dedicated to video games and with vast experience in esports. Throughout the ten years we've been around this industry we've carried out a wide repertoire of activities: from producing events, developing gamer sections and building corporative stands to organising offline tournaments and creating digital content, among other tasks.

This 2022 we're taking advantage of the structure we've built around our professional studio to diversify our offered services. In addition to our ongoing activities, we're adding the development of custom, first-grade digital content for those clients who'd require it. This content includes live broadcasts and pre-recorded media, both for gaming-related companies and for outsiders to this industry.

OUR SERVICE

Through our studio's services, we offer an all-around multimedia production which suits the necessity of any client, getting ourselves deeply involved with the product in order to successfully meet the expectations of those who've put their trust in us.

- . Creative advice and counseling
- . Streaming through any and all platforms required, with design, introduction, voice over and filming on up to three simultaneous sets if required
- . Digital content fit to the client's necessities.
- . Tournaments, esports competitions.
- . A completely unique design line, built around the corresponding videogame.
- . Introduction videos with a professional voice over.
- . Pre-recorded content.
- . Custom scenography made for the client's necessities.
- . Announcers and commentators (casters) specialized in esports.
- . Professional sport analysis over the broadcasted competition.
- . Designs apt for chroma backgrounds, both for pre-recorded content and live use.
